

KNIGHTS MAY WOO & LADIES LISTEN.

the Words by

HARRY STOE VAN DYK.

— the —

Symphonies and Accompaniments.

— by —

J. B. CRAMER.

Ent. Sta. Hall.

Price 2

London, Published by J. B. Cramer, Addison & Beale, 201, Regent Str!

of whom may be had the following Songs by the Same Composer from his Select Melodies.

If in that breast	2	Here remov'd from every sorrow	2
When the dews of summer glisten	2	I knew that thou wert fair	1/6
Thy brow should now be shaded	2	Fairy's Song	2
Oh think not of the coming hours	2	I gave my heart for love to share	2
Alphonso was the flower of spain	2	The snow wreath	2
When years have pass'd away	2	In thine, ever thine	2

KNIGHTS MAY WOO AND LADIES LISTEN.

No. 10.

IN A LIVELY MANNER.

VOICE.

PIANO

mezzo

FORTE.

Knights may woo and ladies listen,

ralldo

E'en as they have done be...fore; Lips may speak and eyes may glisten, I will ne...ver trust them more. Tho' Le...ander, Oh! the stu...pid) Let Love plunge him in the sea, I'm de...

...ter...mind Mas...ter Cu...pid Ne'er shall be the death of me.

Knights may woo and ladies listen, E'en as they have done be-- -fore; Lips may speak, and eyes may glisten--

I will never trust them more.

8va loco

Knights are false and la...dies oft...en, Are as fic...kle as di...vine;

po

Or if Love their hearts can soft...en, He shall ne...ver soft...en mine.

I but found him light-falseheart...ed- Base- re...sent...ful- wan...ton-vain,- So we had some words and par...ted Ne'er I trust to meet a - - gain. Knights are false and la - - dies often, Are as fic - - kle as di - - vine; Or if Love their hearts can soft - - en, He shall ne - - - - ver soft - - - - en mine.

8va loco