

Andante

Violino

Organo

Handwritten musical score for Violino and Organo. The score consists of 11 staves. The top two staves are for Violino and Organo. The remaining nine staves are for a keyboard instrument, likely a harpsichord or spinet. The music is written in a historical style with various ornaments and dynamics. The paper is aged and shows some staining.

This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on aged, yellowed paper. The score is written in dark ink and consists of approximately 12 staves. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The music is characterized by frequent slurs and dynamic markings, including cal. (crescendo), calando, allegro, and gambusia. The paper shows signs of age, with some staining and a slightly uneven texture. The handwriting is fluid and appears to be from a 19th-century manuscript.

Handwritten musical score on aged paper, featuring several staves with notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The notation includes treble clefs and various rhythmic values. The score is partially obscured by diagonal lines, possibly indicating a page fold or damage. A circular stamp is visible in the lower right quadrant of the page.

This image shows a page of aged, yellowed musical manuscript paper. The page is ruled with 18 horizontal staves, each consisting of five lines. The paper has a mottled appearance with various stains and discolorations, particularly along the left edge and in the center. There are some very faint, illegible markings scattered across the page, but no clear musical notation or text is visible. A small tear or hole is present on the left side, approximately halfway down the page.
