TO THE LADIES OF THE SOUTH.

— THE — GELSEMINE VINE.

— BY — WILL S. HAYS.

The Gelsemine, or yellow jessamine (the gelseminum officinal), may well be called the prince of the grand old forests of the South. It climbs to the tops of the tallest pines, and sends off its streamers and festoons of bright golden bells, whose fragrance and beauty are simply enchanting. There is an old superstition in the South that all love that is plighted beneath this vine will be prosperous and happy, and the lovers be true to each other. Hence the vine is a great favorite in the Atlantic and Gulf States, and is held in romantic reverence by all classes. — (New Orleans Democrat.)
