Introduction.

Allegro.

The first system of the Introduction is written for piano in 3/4 time. It begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a melodic line in the right hand. The bass line provides harmonic support. The system concludes with a first ending marked with a '1' over the final measure.

The second system continues the melodic and harmonic development. It features a piano (p) dynamic in the right hand and a more active bass line. The system ends with a first ending marked with a '1' over the final measure.

The third system is characterized by a forte (f) dynamic. The right hand features a more complex, rhythmic melodic line, while the bass line remains steady. The system concludes with a first ending marked with a '1' over the final measure.

Tempo di Valse.

The fourth system is marked Tempo di Valse and is in 3/4 time. It features a piano (p) dynamic throughout. The right hand has a simple, rhythmic melody, and the bass line consists of sustained chords, typical of a waltz accompaniment.

№ 5.

The first system of the musical score for '№ 5.' consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The music is in 2/4 time. The upper staff begins with a melodic line in the right hand, starting with a quarter note G4, followed by eighth notes A4, B4, and C5, then a quarter rest, and continues with a series of eighth and quarter notes. The lower staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords in the left hand, primarily consisting of triads and dyads. A dynamic marking of p (piano) is present at the beginning of the system.

The second system continues the piece. The upper staff features a melodic line with some grace notes and a dynamic marking of f (forte) in the middle. The lower staff continues with the accompaniment, showing some chromatic movement in the bass line. The system concludes with two measures marked as first and second endings, indicated by '1^{ma}' and '2^{da}' above the staff.

The third system shows a more complex texture. The upper staff has a dense, rapid sixteenth-note passage in the right hand. The lower staff continues with the accompaniment, featuring a steady eighth-note bass line. A dynamic marking of p is present at the start of the system.

The fourth system features a very dense and rapid sixteenth-note passage in the upper staff, creating a shimmering effect. The lower staff continues with the accompaniment. The system ends with three measures marked as first, second, and third endings, labeled '1^{ma}', '2^{da}', and '3^{za}' respectively.

Coda.

The musical score is written for piano in 3/4 time. It consists of five systems of two staves each. The first system begins with a piano (p) dynamic. The second system features a forte (f) dynamic. The third system returns to piano (p). The fourth system continues with piano (p). The fifth system concludes with a fermata over the final chord. The key signature has one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 3/4.

The image displays a musical score for piano, organized into five systems, each consisting of a treble and bass staff. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The first system begins with a treble staff featuring a melodic line and a bass staff with chords. Dynamic markings include f (forte) and p (piano). The second system continues the piece, with the treble staff showing a melodic line and the bass staff providing harmonic support. The third system features a more complex melodic line in the treble staff and a bass staff with chords. The fourth system shows a transition in the key signature, with the treble staff having a melodic line and the bass staff with chords. The fifth system concludes the piece, with the treble staff having a melodic line and the bass staff with chords. The score is written in a standard musical notation style, with a key signature of one flat and a time signature of 4/4.
